

Digital Television copyright protection (DTCP) will only further the strangle hold that media giants like Time Warner and Viacom have over our viewing habits. I have a Digital Video Recorder (DVR) I watch the shows that I like when I want. With DTCP I can't selectively record shows for viewing at my convince. Technology should not limit choice/freedom or give media giants additional tools to exercise profitability.